NEWSLETTER

DRI ACTIVITIES

- DRI: Arresting participants in peaceful protests threatens democratic values
- DRI: Russian "soft power" is still active - social aid was brought to Gali villages from Krasnodar region
- Direct air traffic with Russia - financial benefits of pro-Kremlin groups
- Russia continues full financing of Abkhazia's state security service
- The authorities encourage violent groups
- Protection of the labour rights of miners is the responsibility of the Georgian authorities
- Parliamentary oversight of security institutions is flawed
- Russian propaganda is gaining strength in Gali
- Imposing a fine on Grigoriadis contradicts the practice established by the Court of Appeal and represents interference with freedom of expression
- DRI: Tskhinvali security service searches Akhalgori schools

DRI IN COALITION ACTIVITIES

New Security Architecture in Europe and its impact on Georgia - one year since European Perspective

On June 15, three organizations - "Civil Idea", "Democracy Research Institute" (DRI), and "Democracy Index - Georgia" held a conference "New Security Architecture in Europe and its impact on Georgia - one year since European Perspective".

EU CANDIDACY CHECK - how is Georgia progressing towards fulfilling 12 priorities defined by the EU

9 civil society organizations presented the fourth edition of an assessment document – EU CANDIDACY CHECK, which reflects the progress achieved by the Georgian authorities.

According to CSOs' assessments, at this stage, one priority is fully implemented, two priorities are mostly fulfilled, five priorities are partially fulfilled, and four priorities defined by the European Union are to be fulfilled.

Civil society responds to the statement made by the Prime Minister of Georgia

Civil society organizations condemn the statement made by Irakli Gharibashvili, at GLOBSEC's 2023. The statement reiterates the position of the Kremlin and considers the desire of Ukraine to join NATO to be the reason for Russia's unjust invasion of Ukraine.